CARAVAN OF DEATH!

Reginald Bearden Is Arrested Here on Arson Charge

Former Hempstead Deputy Charged With Burning an Automobile

$1,000 BOND ASKED

Car Burned Near Gurdon, Says Clark County Sheriff

Former Chief Deputy Sheriff Reginald Bearden of Hope was arrested here Thursday morning on a charge of arson in connection with the burning of his automobile near Gurdon about three weeks ago.

The warrant for Bearden's arrest was issued in Clark county and was served on Bearden in Hope by State Highway Patrolman Vernon Whitten.

Bearden was taken to Arkadelphia, and early in the afternoon was in the process of making a $1,000 bond, Sheriff A. N. Shaw of Clark county told The Star over telephone.

The Clark county sheriff said that Bearden's automobile, burned on a highway near Gurdon, but declined to elaborate on particulars in the case, other than to say that it was his understanding that Bearden was alone at the time the car burned.

Bearden served Hempstead county four years as chief field deputy and county jailer under his father, former Sheriff J. E. Bearden of Hope. He was an unsuccessful candidate to succeed his father in the Democratic primary election last August.

Late last fall he joined a chemical concern and traveled over the state several weeks as state manager. For the past five weeks he had been engaged with the WPA office at Hope as an interviewer in the employment division.

High School Grid Game to Be Played on Thursday Night

Contest Will Climax Two Weeks of Spring Training for Bobcats

KICKOFF SET FOR 7:30

Hammons Announces the Lineup, Both Sides Are Confident

The Hope High School football team will bring two weeks of spring training to a close Thursday night with a regulation game at Hammons stadium, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Coach Hammons has divided his squad into two teams, the Reds and the Whites. He said both sides were predicting victory. Bill Sommerfield, Earl O'Neal and Paul Philbrick will be the officials.

The two teams will fight it out for three quarters. At the end of the third quarter, Coach Hammons will arrange the teams and pick one team that will be the possible starting line-up when the fall football campaign opens next September.

This team will then "shoot the works" at the reserves during the last quarter. An admission of 10 and 25 cents will be charged, the proceeds to buy sweaters for members of this year's basketball squad.

Guests at Banquet

The team and coaches Hammons and Brasher were guests of the Young Business Men's association at a banquet Wednesday night at Capital hotel, attended by approximately 100 persons.

The principal address was made by W. S. Atkins, new president, who said one of the major objectives of the association was to "aid and equip the youth of this area to meet and master business and governmental problems that they would face as citizens in the future."

Coaches Hammons and Brasher made talks and told of prospects for a winning team next football season. The schedule was also announced.

Others who made short talks were Leo Robins, T. S. Cornelius, B. L. Kauffman, Roy Anderson, R. C. Ellen, Paul Tolleson, Jim Bearden.

Extortion Charged by Dyess Colonists

Assert $75 to $100 Demanded for Land That Cost Only $25.00

OSCEOLA, Ark.—Two hundred seventy-five residents of Dyess colony, government-financed rural rehabilitation project in eastern Arkansas, held an all-day meeting at the courthouse here Wednesday to protest what they charged were exorbitant charges for land they had bought.

Following the session, telegrams signed by 125 of the colonists were sent to President Roosevelt and Governor Bailey, asking their aid in correcting the alleged abuses.

The telegram to Governor Bailey was virtually a duplicate of that sent to President Roosevelt and asked the governor to "use your influence with Mr. Roosevelt to put an end to the intolerable conditions existing here."

The colonists charged that they moved to the project with the understanding that their land was to be bought for $25.00 an acre, plus improvement costs, but that officials now insisted they pay $75 to $100 an acre.

Italians Angered by French Reply

Mussolini Says He's Not Going to Be "Mediterranean Prisoner"

ROME, Italy.—Premier Mussolini Thursday affirmed Italy's intention not to remain a "prisoner in the Mediterranean," while Fascists studied with disfavor Wednesday night's address by Premier Daladier of France.

Virginia Gayda, leading Fascist editor, summed up the Italian reaction to Daladier's speech with the assertion that the French premier wanted to "shut tight the half-closed door" to French-Italian negotiations.

"It is clear by now," Gayda wrote, "that the French government does not wish to discuss further either territories or rights. It wishes to separate itself from Italy, and stiffen itself with its 'never'."

A Jap Statement

TOKYO, Japan.—The Japanese government Thursday invited the United States, French and British ambassadors to the foreign office Friday to receive an "important statement."

Its nature was not known, but some quarters reported that foreign Minister Hachiro Arita would detail the status of negotiations with Italy and Germany toward strengthening the anti-communism accord.

More British Arms

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain intimated to the House of Commons Thursday that Britain's navy and air force would be expanded.

Only Wednesday the prime minister announced the doubling of the territorial army of 340,000 men.

Chamberlain spoke after presiding at an emergency cabinet meeting which gave urgent consideration to steps Britain might take in the event of a new European emergency, and plans for training and equipping 210,000 recruits for an unprecedented peace-time expansion of her army.

Truck Driver Tells of Traffic Crash Series in Mississippi

VICKSBURG, Miss.—(AP)—At least four persons were dead Thursday, five missing and eight injured after six or more automobiles plunged 50 feet into clear creek, bayou where a bridge had been washed out.

Divers Thursday were searching for more cars and bodies in the swollen 20-foot deep stream.

Officers said the bridge washed out in the darkness, and the cars plunged off the road one after another.

The known dead were:

S. M. WILSON, Jackson, Miss.
MARCUS MEERS, Canton, Miss.
M. W. BEAVER, Jackson, Miss.
MRS. MARY SCHRACK, Murfreesboro, Tenn.

The first car, Rupert Lewis, a truck driver, said, plunged into the bayou shortly before 9:35 p. m. Wednesday. He said the truck he was driving went into the water at that time. He saw one automobile disappear ahead of him.

Officers believed other machines followed Rupert's truck in a period of less than an hour.

Senate Favorable on Cotton Subsidy

Agriculture Committee Approves Reclaiming 3 Million Bales

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Entering President Roosevelt's suggestion for a cotton export subsidy program, the senate agriculture committee approved Thursday a bill which would permit farmers to reclaim up to 3 million bales of stocks now held as collateral for government loans.

Senator Bankhead, Alabama Democrat, author of the cotton proposal, said it involved "subsidizing the American producer instead of the foreign buyer."

The senate finance committee decided against raising the tax on imported vegetable oil and fat after hearing from President Roosevelt that such an increase would "destroy or at least seriously impair" the trade agreements program.

Roosevelt, in a letter to Chairman Harrison, said he considered the issue so grave it was his "clear duty" to issue any bill which carried increases as a rider.

Dr. Brinkley Loses Suit for Damages

Texas Jury Fails to Find Fishbein 'Quack' Charge Libeled Him

DEL RIO, Tex.—(AP)—Dr. Morris Fishbein of Chicago, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, was victorious Wednesday in the $250,000 libel suit filed against him by Dr. John R. Brinkley, gland specialist who advertises his surgery over a Mexican radio station.

A jury of eight West Texas ranchmen and business men returned a verdict in favor of the medical magazine editor after deliberating five hours.

William Morris Jr., of San Antonio, lawyer for Dr. Brinkley, said the jury's verdict would be appealed to the federal Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans.

Dr. Fishbein, who wrote an article published in the magazine Hygeia calling Dr. Brinkley a quack and a charlatan, contended in his defense of the suit that what he had written was fair and impartial criticism of Dr. Brinkley and his professional practice.

Dr. Brinkley's lawyers contended Dr. Fishbein's article was "malicious, unjustified, unfair and unwarranted." They sought to prove Dr. Brinkley had made an important surgical discovery and that his work had benefited his patients.

In delivering his charges to the jury, Judge McMillan gave the jurors the definition of the word quack and told them the defense issues were truth and privilege under Texas libel laws.

Whether Dr. Fishbein's article was a reasonably fair comment and criticism, at one point in his charge Judge McMillan said: "There is no doubt that this plaintiff has been the subject of trouble in several places in this country. The question of his right

Brown Nominated Comptroller Post

Former New Hampshire Senator Gets Office of

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Roosevelt Thursday nominated former Senator Fred H. Brown of New Hampshire to fill the long-vacant post of Comptroller General of the United States. Brown's term will be 15 years and his salary $10,000 a year.

Brown, who was New Hampshire's governor from 1924 to 1925, was defeated last November after a single term in the senate.

In the comptroller generalship Brown succeeds to the post vacated in 1936 by John R. McCarty. Since then Richard Elliott has been Acting Comptroller General.

Business Lagging a Bit in March

Stores Off One Per Cent, But Most Lines Ahead of 1938

ST. LOUIS.—(AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank Thursday reported business in the Eighth district in February and early March developed moderately recessionary trends in comparison with the "relatively high rate of activity" during January and the final quarter of 1938.

But in most lines investigated the bank found improvement over the similar period last year.

Expected seasonal expansion was lacking in many lines of trade and manufacturing.

Demand for building materials was active and inquiries from possible buyers and orders on hand indicated the continuation of the present rate into the summer.

Ingot production in mid-March was 60 per cent of capacity, the best since October, 1937. Consumption of electric current by industrial users in February rose 14 per cent over February of 1938. Manufacturers of glass, fire clay products and plumbing supplies told of moderate decreases in February production from the preceding month.

Department store sales in principal cities of the district disclosed the retail trade volume in February was 10 per cent under January and about one per cent less than a year ago.

Heavy rains, and in some areas floods, handicapped farmers and on the whole, farm work is a bit behind slightly in advance of the normal seasonal schedule, because the frost fall and early winter permitted work in the fields.

Rheumatic Fever as Menacing to Children as Paralysis

Many times rheumatic fever has been discussed in these columns. No doubt it will have to be discussed again and again, for the public and the medical profession do not yet realize the significance of this disease as one of the greatest crippling agents that affects children.

Although much more attention is paid to infantile paralysis, that disease does not begin to compare with rheumatic heart disease as a disease that cripples and destroys children.

Unfortunately, we are not certain as to the cause of rheumatic heart disease. In many cases sore throats preceded the onset, and some believe that this represents the time of the entrance of the infectious agent into the body.

This is one among many diseases which affects children living in the poorer areas of industrial towns 20 or 30 times as often as it affects the children of the well-to-do. Yet cases occur not infrequently among those able to supply children with all of the necessary food, fuel, clothing and shelter.

Rheumatic fever is serious not only because it occasionally destroys life, but also because it almost always cripples those who do not succumb, causes permanent damage to the heart and disability that may last throughout life. The unfortunate early death which may result from this disease gives it special significance.

Recent investigations seem to indicate some relationship between infection with the streptococcus and this disease, but unfortunately none of the remedies specifically useful against the streptococcus has been found to be specific in rheumatic fever.

Experts in the prevention of disease are inclined to recommend that control of overcrowding, defective ventilation, bad humidity and diseases such as influenza or measles would help to control rheumatic fever. The control of all of these conditions is, for the vast majority of mankind, exceedingly difficult.

It has been said that the incidence of this disease can be lowered by recognizing that there is an hereditary factor.

and that, darkness, chill, and fatigue are important secondary causes. Yet it is almost impossible to prevent occasional exposure to all of these causes.

A British health officer gives the following suggestions as a program against rheumatic fever with the hope that they may prevent the appearance of a certain number of cases:

1. Provide proper underwear and dry housing.

2. Provide supplementary feeding for children.

3. Provide proper facilities for drying and disinfecting and for changing wet clothes in schools.

4. Provide suitably heated and ventilated schools.

5. Arrange for early diagnosis in susceptible cases.

6. Provide a suitable number of hospital beds for children demanding care during rheumatic fever.

7. Arrange facilities for rehabilitation of children whose hearts have been crippled by this disease.

At Last the Cards Are Down in Europe

The conquest of Czechoslovakia has at least this merit: it has now made it clear that Adolf Hitler, backed by the military might of Germany, is prepared to seize anything he wants without a shadow of regard for right.

Many have believed this all along. But the taking over of the Sudeten area of Czechoslovakia had a certain amount of reasonableness in its favor. After all the Sudeten is a large majority of the people of the area, were German and were at least willing, perhaps eager, to join the Reich.

It would be useless to pretend that the Czechs of Bohemia and Moravia are German, so a new phrase is invented by Hitler to cover them: their "race" is part of the living space of the German people. Such a phrase means nothing, or it means anything. It would include Yorkville, Cincinnati, Milwaukee.

So now we have the picture of a small neighboring country inhabited by people entirely outside Hitler's "racial" orbit, who are overwhelmed and taken into the Reich without a shadow of warning or any appeal to the rights of the case that would register in the mind of a 10-year-old child.

When Hitler said at Munich that he had no more territorial ambitions in Europe and when he joined in guaranteeing the borders of the dissected Czecho-Slovakia, some people doubted the validity of his words. Now everyone knows just how valid they were.

No one can have any patience with a quibble about the "protectorate" status of the Bohemian-Moravian state. Any one can see how much independence and autonomy is left to a state in which a foreign power can arrest thousands of people, deprive all except minority German of citizenship, appoint a foreign governor and impose foreign laws, conduct the areas' foreign and economic affairs, maintain military garrisons of foreign troops, supervise all communications and money. And that is Hitler's program for his new territory.

No country directly concerned has seen fit to act, or even to protest. Britain has merely wrung its hands. France has maintained a shocked silence. Russia has said merely, "Huh! Better not come too close to ME!" The United States, infinitely farther removed than any of these countries, can hardly be expected to be more active in the matter.

But the implications must not be missed. As good an excuse for seizing any country in the world can be made by Adolf Hitler as he gave for the conquest of Czechoslovakia.

THEATERS

At the Saenger
Opening Thursday at the Saenger theater, "Kentucky," a 20th Century-Fox production filmed in Technicolor, is a romance of the Blue Grass state, and it features in the leading roles Loretta Young, Richard Greene and Walter Brennan. Also included in the cast are Douglas Dumbrille, Karen Morley and Moroni Olsen.
From all reports, "Kentucky" contains the most spectacular climax of any picture in recent years, as it presents for the first time in the history of the motion picture, the Kentucky Derby, filmed in Technicolor. Much of the picture was filmed on location in the heart of the Blue Grass country and the luxuriant beauty of the land where the thoroughbreds roam the meadows is reproduced on the screen in complete naturalness through the perfection of Technicolor.
It is interesting to note that Richard Greene and Loretta Young share the romantic leads in "Kentucky," just as they did in Greene's first picture, "Four Men and a Prayer." According to reports they are ideally suited to the roles and the story of their love, all fire and pride, makes a great theme for the film.

collars.
The next election campaign may be televised, but what are the politicians going to do without a script?
Board of Tax Appeals refused an income deduction for false teeth. Claimed they were "personal." Not at night, maybe.

It is a notorious fact that our colleges are hotbeds of atheism. Rev. Dr. Oscar Kreindler, president of Valparaiso University.

At the New
"Mr. Moto," the new kind of sleuth who astonished millions of Saturday Evening Post readers, proves even more astonishing on the screen as Peter Lorre, the one star who could portray J. P. Marquand's diffident Japanese to the life, undertakes the role in "Think Fast, Mr. Moto," Century-Fox picture Thursday and Friday at the New theater.
Not since he started the world with his sensational triumph in "M" has Lorre given the screen such an amazing performance—the strange Mr. Moto, whose eyes are as mild as his timid smile, but whose mind is as quick as his trigger finger.
Strange events in Pisco's Chinatown place the amazing detective on the trail of a criminal band that has the international police at their wits' end. From the Golden Gate he follows mysterious clues across the Pacific to Shanghai, nest of a thousand iniquities, harbor of a thousand evil-doers.
Embraced in the tragic tolls of the gang that is the object of Lorre's search, Virginia Field and Thomas Beck find their romance fearfully beset by all manner of dangers, and so welcome the advent of the mysterious little Japanese. Foremost among the Shanghai group is Sig Ruman, the burly proprietor of a waterfront gambling den, which is the headquarters of Lorre's enemies.
Norman Foster, who directed the picture in addition to collaborating with Howard Ellis Smith on the screen play, introduces the mild-mannered Oriental to a series of rough-and-tumble jujitsu combats that climax the film by exposing the members of the gang.
Executive producer Sol M. Wurtzel of Twentieth Century-Fox announces

"Think Fast, Mr. Moto" as the first of a screen series involving fiction's most unusual sleuth.

Claims Grass-Planting By Air Is Success

PAMPA, Texas.—(AP)—Ralph Thomas, county agent, says an experiment in sowing range grass from an airplane has proved successful.
"We were agreeably surprised at the uniformity of the sowing," said Thomas. "The plane can sow a strip one mile long and 100 yards wide on each trip."
A special blower attached to the plane expels the seed.

SOUTH BEND.—(AP)—The Notre Dame basketball team won one game this year after it had ended; Maurice Ziegenhorn, soph forward, dropped the free throw that defeated Syracuse, 35-34, after time had been called ending the overtime period. He was fouled just before the gun was fired.

Baby Chicks
Farm wives who are planning to include chicken as an important item on their spring menus as well as for the market are busy now with the details of hatching and care of baby chicks.
A number of farm women at Hempstead county have already added the care of incubators and brooders to their daily duties.
Simplicity and economy in construction and operation are the two features of successfully brooding of chicks.
According to S.A. Moore, extension poultryman, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture, this brick brooder is becoming one of the most popular type of brooders in Arkansas. Where wood is cheap this brooder is extremely desirable because of its low operating cost. Because of its extreme simplicity many growers refused to believe that the brick brooder could be depended upon to perform the delicate task of properly heating baby chicks. Many of those who were skeptical have now discarded their more expensive stoves in favor of the homemade brick brooders. Many others plan to follow their example and reduce brooding cost in 1939. Mr. Moore said.
Complete plans and specifications which enable anyone to build a brick brooder are found in Arkansas ex-

Broad Gauge Railroad
It's 4.8 Miles Long
CASSVILLE, Mo.—(AP)—Ben Amey, son, locomotive engineer, thinks his is the shortest broad gauge railroad in the United States.
It runs uphill 1.8 miles from Cassville to Exeter, Mo., and the one-way freight train toasts all the way back to Cassville.
It makes one trip a day. Passengers, if there are any, ride in the locomotive tender with the engineer and fireman.
Once a government inspector came all the way from Washington to inspect the line. The next year he just sent a postal card to be filled out. The line is debt free and makes money, says David Dingley, part owner.

Home Food
Home demonstration club members are making out their grocery lists a year in advance this month.
An adequate food supply is one in which is furnished all the food elements needed by the family to keep each member in positive health, that is full of vim, vigor and vitality, declares Miss Gertrude E. Conant, extension nutritionist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.
An adequate milk supply, plenty of vegetables, fruits, eggs and poultry must be considered first. All of these are necessary and may be provided on the farm, this nutritionist points out.
The orchard, the vegetable garden, the dairy and poultry yard are the most important points in providing an adequate food supply, as they furnish all of the elements which promote growth and maintain health and vigor. It is estimated that one acre garden should be supplied for each member of the family, according to Miss Conant. Six to ten producing hens should provide eggs and occasional meat. A good milk cow is a necessity. Plant yet green are necessary to furnish vitamins and minerals—two things usually lacking in the average restricted diet.
Then plans must be made to can about 30 quarts of vegetables and 35 quarts of fruits for each member of the family for winter supply. Many vegetables, such as carrots, turnips, salsify, and rutabagas may be filled.

Sports of All Sorts
Iowa Follows N. D.
IOWA CITY.—(AP)—Under Dr. Ed. Anderson, new football coach at the University of Iowa, the football candidates will learn all the details of the Notre Dame system that they can absorb in the two months of spring training. Dr. Anderson will be assisted by Jim Harris, line coach, and Frank Carideo, backfield coach.
Laying in the ground to prevent freezing and keep fresh for winter use, peas and beans, of various kinds may be dried on the vines and harvested and stored. If good planning is carried out, less time need be spent in canning over a hot stove in summer.

Have you ever noticed how much better you feel after using Mentholum? It's the difference between a cold and a sniffle.

FOR CHILDREN'S SNIFFLES

SPARE your child much of the misery of sniffles, sneezing, and blowing one's nose by using one little Mentholum in his nose. This soothing, antiseptic, and refreshing mentholatum will help him breathe more freely. Also rub Mentholum on his chest, back, and neck. This will stimulate circulation. Meanwhile the medicinal vapors will circulate through the breathing passages, thus further aiding the clearing up of the air and soothing irritated membranes. You'll be glad to see how much better he feels.

Carol Lombard and Clark Gable Wed

Hollywood's Top-Ranking Stars Are Married in Arizona

KINGMAN, Ariz.,—Clark Gable and Carol Lombard, two of the brightest of all Hollywood's film stars, were married here late Wednesday by the Rev. Kenneth M. Eagle of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

The couple walked into the marriage license bureau about an hour before the ceremony and so startled the clerk, Miss Viola Olsen, she could hardly speak. "I recognized Mr. Gable at once," she said later, "but I certainly was surprised to see them."

Gable drove his automobile from Hollywood, but he and Miss Lombard did not inform their friends of their gray flannel ensemble, Gable a blue suit.

Howard Cate, principal of Kingman High School, and the minister's wife were the only witnesses to the ceremony.

Cate said Gable told him he and his bride would make their home in Boulder City, Nev., and spend Thursday at Boulder Dam. They probably will return to Hollywood Friday, as Gable must resume work on "Done With the Wind," in which he plays the role of Rhet Butler.

It was Gable's third marriage and Miss Lombard's second. She married William Powell, actor, in 1931 and divorced him in 1933. Gable's second wife obtained a divorce in Las Vegas, Nev., March 7. He reached a $266,000 property settlement with her.

Gable's true name is William C. Gable and Miss Lombard's was Jane Peters, but her present name has been legalized. He is 35 years old and she is 31. They met in 1933 when they appeared together in the film "No Man of Her Own," and their met socially at a 1933 party after she divorced Powell.

Miss Lombard calls Gable "Moose" or "Poppy." He calls her "The Madam." Gable and his second wife, Maria, separated in 1935.

Columbia County to Vote on Soil District

MAGNOLIA, Ark.—A referendum will be held in Columbia county soon to determine whether the county's residents are in favor of creating a soil conservation district. Farmers and businessmen of the county voted in favor of holding the referendum Wednesday, after the setup of the proposed district was discussed.

Dale McGregor, assistant extension agronomist at Little Rock, acted as chairman of the meeting, which was attended by 250 persons.

Trade Barriers

Removal of interstate trade barriers that are affecting every kind of farm product as recommended recently by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in a report, "Barriers to Internal Trade in Farm Products," to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace coincides with the policies of the American Farm Bureau Federation, according to Executive Secretary Waldo Fraser of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation.

"Regulations and restrictions which are causing incalculable economic loss have been set up by every state in the Union," Mr. Fraser notified Lee H. Garland, secretary of the Hempstead County Farm Bureau. "Interstate commerce insofar as agricultural products are concerned will continue to be severely handicapped until an intelligent program permitting states to again become broad highways of commerce, the general welfare, is inaugurated."

"Discriminatory inspection fees, licenses, and taxes, conflicting food grading, labeling, and packaging laws, and a bewildering maze of quarantines, embargoes, and other impositions, most of which are widespread over the nation each year and have all but abolished free trade, according to Mr. Fraser."

The original laws usually defeat their own purpose. He cited the margin laws passed by some states as an example.

"Lack of uniformity in state laws has been partially responsible for unfair restrictions such as those against the motor truck and merchant-trucker who have become the objects of widespread interstate regulations, restrictions, and taxation," he said. Mr. Fraser pointed out that the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation has played an active part in assisting state officials to work out reciprocal trucking agreements between Arkansas and other neighboring states in the movement of agricultural products interstate and that the Farm Bureau vigorously opposed a bill in the recent General Assembly that would have had truck ports of entry established in Arkansas.

to practice medicine has been raised several times.

The judge referred to the revocation of Dr. Brinkley's license to practice medicine in Kansas, revocation of his license in Connecticut in a general action against osteopathic doctors, refusal of California to grant him a permanent license, cancellation of his broadcast privilege by the Federal Communications Commission and revocation of a degree given him by a medical school in Italy.

"It is manifest in his own and other evidence that this is not the first time an article of this kind has been written about him. We have heard read here depositions that were taken in another suit filed by the plaintiff against Dr. Morris Fishbein. Dr. Brinkley said in his own testimony that he had been convicted of the sale of alcoholic spirits in Kansas."

HI BOYS—PUTTIN' PLENTY O' FERTILIZA UNDA DAY CROP, HUH?

SHE IS UNCLE NATCHEL PLENTY O' NATCHEL SODA IN IT—TOO, YAS SUH!

"PLENTY o' natchel soda" in it—that's important, because "natchel soda"—Natural Chilean Nitrate of Soda—helps you two ways.

- 1—It supplies plenty of ideal, quick-acting nitrogen, to help make the finest crop you can grow.
- 2—It supplies a number of other plant food elements—soil-improving elements—which help protect against plant food deficiencies.

If you aren't sure your mixed fertilizer has Natural Chilean in it—a good idea is to add a shovelful to every bag. Try it.

NATURAL CHILEAN NITRATE OF SODA
